

Wideye Sabre 1

Wideye SABRE I enables mobile satellite communication using Inmarsat I-4 satellite to deliver Broadband Global Area Network (BGAN) services covering 85% land on earth. Unlike conventional satellite equipment, Wideye leverage on consumer electronic experience and deliver easy-to-use and robust BGAN terminal.

With multiple common network interfaces in one box, SABRE I enables users to run simultaneous voice and data service with ease. Experiences in other wireless technologies such as DECT and Bluetooth, SABRE I offer users more choices to liberate and extend their communication in the remote and hard-to-reach areas. The SABRE I brings high-speed office grade communications to your briefcase, anytime, anywhere. It is a simple to use, sub-laptop sized, fully self-contained satellite terminal. With the easy-to-carry SABRE I in your travel kit, you are always in touch.
